CELEBRATING A CENTURY

CENTENNIAL SERVICE OF WORSHIP

Standing on the threshold of a centennial year is a place where we look behind and remember our past as well as look ahead and anticipate what is to come. The long and distinguished history of Ontario Bible College is one whose vision and direction has been shaped by the central influence of the good news of the gospel. Like Israel of old we look back and remember the faithfulness of God in providing direction, and grace for the journey. It was for this reason that we gathered together on Saturday evening, May 14, for a service of worship and thanksgiving.

About two hundred and fifty alumni and friends were present at the service held at Walmer Road Baptist Church, just a block from the old Spadina campus. The date and location for the service were chosen because it was Elmore Harris, the pastor of Walmer Road Baptist Church who brought together a group of twelve, including clergy and members of the business community, on that same evening in 1894. Out of that meeting came the commitment to establish Toronto Bible Training School which began classes in September of that same year.

The worship service was centered around the theme of thanksgiving to God for His faithfulness. Staff, Faculty, Board Members and Alumni took part in the service. Three alumni, Robert Cousins ('80), Laurine Schmelzle ('67) and Reverend William Tyler ('36), each spoke of memories of College life and of the shaping influence of those years in their personal lives.

The music included a number of familiar hymns as well as the less familiar college hymn, "Help Us, O Lord the God of our Salvation", first used as far

The singing was well supported by an ensemble of 10 singers and the College Trio under the leadership of faculty member Elizabeth Davey and Sharon Bell as organist. OBC Vice-President, Rod Wilson, gave a brief meditation drawing our attention to the need to acknowledge our past failures as well as successes. We were reminded

IT'S THE PARTY OF THE CENTURY

Between the stage performances of music and drama will be strolling musicians, clowns, mimes and historical characters. Many alumni as well as faculty, staff and students are donating their talents onstage and backstage.

Families will not only find children's performers, but facilities for nursing mothers and diaper changing. Rumor has it that a distant cousin of a large purple dinosaur will be present to celebrate with us. Children will not want to miss this day.

We will also be featuring a craft and antique show and sale. Craft and antique vendors interested in renting table space are welcome. Tables will be renting for $25.00 each. For further information please call (416)226-6380 ext 2210. "The college keeps changing", says OBC/OTS President Bruce Gordon, "as it should. We're not only relating to the 90's but we're looking ahead to the next century."

The college is gearing up to welcome hundreds of visitors who may be surprised at the colour, humour and imagination that can spring from a century old institution. If you are interested in crafts, carnival games, a seniors tea room, antique cars, children's entertainment, helium balloon rides, a petting zoo, a barber shop quartet, a brass band, and much more, you will not want to miss this party.

This is an event designed to celebrate in every possible way. Friends and alumni are also invited to make this a Homecoming Weekend. Ontario Bible College and Ontario Theological Seminary are joining together for an alumni banquet on Friday night, September 23, 6:30 p.m. at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Markham. The Golden Milers will be honored at the reunion banquet. All other class reunions will take place on Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. on campus. We encourage all OBC and OTS Alumni to come and celebrate this heritage of Christian Ministry. For further details and registration information please see the back page of the newsletter. ▲

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

President Bruce Gordon

"I believe that God uses men and women like you to accomplish His purposes on this campus."

One of the richest words in the Old Testament is the Hebrew word "cheched." It is translated "mercy", "lovingkindness", "great love", etc. Cheched speaks to us of a lovingly faithful, loyal God, who is able and worthy of our trust.

As Denise and I look back over the three and a half years we have been at OBC/OTS, the word "cheched" has become real to us. Our needs have been met, perhaps not in accordance with our plans, but with God's. We have found that He really is loyal to our trust.

The year 1993/94 has been the first year in the implementation plan of our financial restructuring plan. It has been a time of testing, trying and waiting as we went with an Operating Budget which projected an improvement in our overall financial picture of more than $1,000,000. It also aggressively projected that the efforts of a new Foundation Board would raise donations of $1,100,000 towards the Budget.

Our year-end of May 31st is now over and God's provision and faithfulness has been felt on our campus. The objective of balancing our budget within our three funds (Operating, Property and Restricted) has been accomplished and $1,103,000 in donations, exceeding the $1,100,000 budget, has been raised.

It is these tough experiences which strengthen our belief. As you, our partners, read these words, I suspect that some of you are just hanging on. Your situation appears hopeless and the word "trust" is fading off the pages of your memory. Friends, read Psalm 89 and meditate on the word "lovingkindness" in verse one. We serve a faithful Redeemer and His loyalty surpasses all.

I believe in a God who delights in rescue. I believe in the faces of our students here on campus. I believe in a divine master financial strategist, and I believe that God uses men and women like you to accomplish His purposes on this campus.

Is it easy? No. Is it fun? Not really... not as the world defines fun. Is it hard work? Very much so. Does it pay dividends? More than you and I will ever know, and we will have an eternity to find out. ▲

OBC GRADUATION

On Saturday, April 23, over 1,000 people gathered at Walmer Road Baptist Church for the OBC graduation.

The service began with "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven", not just because it is a tradition but because this hymn continues to express the heartbeat of the community at the end of an academic year.

The OBC "trio-in-residence" provided the music with an arrangement of "Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah", "El Shaddai", and "He Watching Over Israel Slumbers Not Nor Sleeps". Vice-president, Dr. Rod Wilson, reminded the graduates that an understanding of God as the guide, as the one who is the Lord God Almighty and as the one who never sleeps, will provide confidence for the future.

Two graduating students spoke of the impact of OBC on their lives: Shelly Beal was influenced by the blend of the academic, personal and spiritual components of the College, while Nestor Medina was thankful to God for the way he had been led from his homeland in Guatemala to Canada and to OBC.

As well as a time of celebration this was a time of anticipation. Of the 69 graduates, 27 of them plan to move on to further education, 28 plan to move into ministry positions, while 8 anticipate some sort of secular employment (the remaining group are unclear at the present time). Please pray for these women and men as they move through this time of transition. ▲

OTS GRADUATION

The OTS Graduation was a time of profound joy and gratitude again this year for students, faculty and friends. Students celebrated a very concrete step in their preparation for ministry; faculty were aware in a special way of the investment they make in the lives of so many; and friends witnessed the fruit of their support in a tangible way.

The Commencement Address was brought by Chancellor Dr. William McRae, who effectively challenged the students to balance their service with solitude in order to avoid the shallowness of "the busy life". Time spent doing for God needs to be balanced by time spent being with God.

Awards given to both returning and graduating students illustrated the emphasis put on the various areas of development for students at OTS: academic proficiency, spiritual formation and skills acquisition. The graduating students who received awards were: Judy Chiu, Kevin

Houser, Albert Law, Lawson Murray, Derek Ng, Sharon Ramsay, Doug Schonberg, Cory Somers, Brad Watson and Rick Wismer. The two students chosen to speak on behalf of the graduates were Peter Toy and Sharon Ramsay.

For these and all the other students who, while they have not been singled out for a specific award, have been hon-cover within themselves a deep sense of gratitude for God's providence.

It is also a time to look forward with expectation to the new things God has for them. As this year's 79 graduates spread out around the world, their influence will be felt in "Graduation is a special time of celebration which brings together both reflection on the past and anticipation for the future."

oured by the event. Graduation is a special time of celebration which brings together both reflection on the past and anticipation for the future.

For some full-time students, the transition is a dramatic one as they move out into an unknown future, while for others, who studied part-time, it is but another step in their continuing ministry. For all, however, it is a time of reflection when they recognize how God has provided the resources for their preparation for ministry. These resources are seen in the support of family and friends, the financial contributions of many donors, the prayer support of many people who are often unknown to the students, the health and ability to work and study, and the faculty who teach, mentor and care for them in a multitude of ways. The result of this reflection is to dissuch places as Ghana, Sierre Leone, Ethiopia, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Korea, Canada, Unites States, South Africa, Chile and Kenya; among such people as Europeans, Filipinos, Chinese, Koreans, Iranians, Armenians, Canadians, Americans, Africans, Spanish and French; and in such ministries as pastoring, teaching ESL, evangelism, medical missionary work, church planting, relief work, counselling, caring, discipling, preaching, communications and video work, youth work, children's ministries, team pastoring, writing, student work and drama. As well, some are pursuing further education for specialized ministries and some are planning to be more active and better equipped lay workers in their churches.

We ask that you will pray with us that they will make a significant impact for the Kingdom wherever God calls them to minister. ▲

PRESIDENT'S CIRCLE RECOGNIZED

"The purpose of the luncheon was to recognize and thank the members of The President's Circle for their generous support."

The OBC/OTS Foundation hosted the first President's Circle Luncheon on May 26 at the Granite Club in Toronto. There were 180 people in attendance, including faculty and administrators of both schools, church and para church leaders, President's Circle members and their invited guests. Dr. David McKenna of Asbury Theological Seminary in Kentucky was the guest speaker.

The President's Circle was established this past year

(Fall, 1993) to help build a stable financial base for the annual operating fund for the college and seminary. There are currently 214 members of the President's Circle, donors who give $1000 or more each year, and the Foundation wants to continue building the membership of this significant group of supporters.

The purpose of the luncheon was to recognize and thank the members of The President's Circle for their generous support. Both commitment and mandate of the OBC/OTS Foundation to provide financial leadership for the institutions. As part of their presentation they introduced the guests to the Foundation's new brochure, "A Vision for the Next Century."

In his opening remarks Dr. McKenna asked the question, "If OBC and OTS did not already exist, would they need to be invented?" In his affirmative answer he emphasized that we need to continue our commitment to a moral and spiritual vision of ministry. Modelling integrity for our students is far more important than giving them tools for Christian ministry. ▲

WESLEY CHAIR LUNCHEON – MAY 25

Dr. David McKenna

Originally planned as an informal get-together between Wesleyan church leaders and Dr. David McKenna, president of Asbury Theological Seminary, the Wesley Chair Luncheon at OTS on May 25 turned into a formal luncheon hosted by the OBC/OTS Foundation office. The OTS chapel/classroom was transformed into a dining room. Beaver Food services catered an elegant lunch for sixty guests of OTS.

Denominational leaders from the Salvation Army, the Free Methodist Church, the Brethren in Christ, and the Standard Church and members of the Ministerial Education and Guidance Committee of the Free Methodist Church joined President Bruce Gordon and Vice-president and Dean Ian Rennie in hearing Dr. Victor Shepherd's enthusiastic reflections on completion of his first year as the occupant of the Chair of Wesley Studies at OTS.

In his comments to the guests of the seminary, Dr. McKenna commended both the Denominational leaders and OTS for their joint venture of establishing the Chair of Wesley Studies. He emphasized that seminary administrators and professors need the financial stability which funded chairs provide to go about their primary responsibilities of teaching and researching.

Mary Ann Buffam, Director of Development, explains that the luncheon helped introduce the seminary and its varied resources to a new constituency of church leaders who are deeply committed to Christian education. ▲

A PARTNERSHIP OF CARING – OBC/OTS FOUNDATION REPORT

We are thankful for the support of our many Partners. In April we were in need of $250,000 to reach our donation target and balance our May 31 fiscal year budget. What seemed like an impossible goal in the short period of two months turned into an answer to prayer and a strong indication of God's blessing. We surpassed this $250,000 goal to reach $1,103,000.

Total donations included:

$1,103,000	annual student support
$440,000	completed campaign funds
$90,000	forgivable loan funds
$120,000	other designated funds
$1,753,000	Total

June 1 began our 1994/95 fiscal year. The Foundation

Board has targeted for $1,900,000 in donation income with a need for $1,300,000 in general income. This is an increase of $200,000 in student support over last year. We need your partnership with us as we endeavour to vision for the future of OBC/OTS.

Thanks again!!

RENOWNED AUTHOR VISITS OTS

Dr. Alister McGrath, renowned author and Evangelical Theologian from Oxford University visited the OTS campus on April 22, 1994. McGrath lectured to OTS students, faculty and alumni on "Effective Apologetics:

Theological Foundations - Practical Application" and "Evangelical Confidence in a Pluralist Age".

Dr. McGrath is author of 21 books including: Christian Theology, A Great Cloud of Witnesses and Understanding Jesus. ▲

JOHN WESLEY SEMINARY FOUNDATION

"Canadian Free Methodists have a remarkable record of supporting their students at OTS"

On Monday, April 18, OTS was visited by a team of four members from the John Wesley Seminary Foundation which oversees graduate-level theological education for the Free Methodist Church in the United States. The team consisted of Bishop Gerald Bates and Dr. Bruce Kline from the denominational headquarters in Indianapolis, Indiana, Dr. Wayne McCown from Roberts Wesleyan College in Rochester, New York and Mr. Guy Delamarter from Oregon.

They met with President Gordon and Dean Rennie, attended chapel, examined the library, sat in on a class conducted by Dr. Victor Shepherd of the Chair of Wesley Studies, interviewed the registrar and dean of students, and had lunch with the Free Methodist students studying at OTS. The outcome of the visit is that the J.W.S.F. is recommending to the Commission of Christian Education of the Free Methodist Church in the US that OTS be an accredited seminary of the denomination, and that financial aid be given to American Free Methodists students attending OTS. Canadian Free Methodists have a remarkable record of supporting their students at OTS, and now students, particularly from the northeastern section of the States, will be able to receive similarly generous funding while at OTS. This further cements the ties between the Seminary and Free Methodism, and gives an important entree into the American student world. ▲

DR. BETH POSTERSKI

Elizabeth (Beth) Posterski has successfully defended her dissertation and completed the requirements for her Doctor of Education from the University of Toronto (OISE). The degree will be conferred at Convocation ceremonies in November. Her thesis, "The World's Children in Toronto Day Care: Portraits of Four Child Day Care Centres," looks at the challenge of providing child care and basic English language instruction to Toronto's ethnically diverse population.

Posterski is Chair of OBC's Ministry Studies department. During her nine years of teaching in the department she has been responsible for developing and coordinating two joint programs with community colleges: Early Childhood Studies (with Seneca College) and Special Needs (with Humber College). Posterski's thesis has widened her lense, already focused on children, to include multicultural issues. ▲

DR. IRVING WHITT

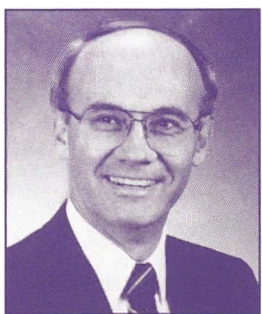

Irving Whitt, professor of Missions at OTS for the last three years, received his Doctor of Missiology (D.Miss.) at the June graduation of the School of World Mission at Fuller Theological Seminary, Pasadena, California, which is arguably the leading centre of mission study in North America. Whitt served for some years in missionary service in Kenya, East Africa, and in his thesis has examined the development of missionary principles and practice by the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada. The title is "Developing a Pentecostal Missiology in the Canadian Context: 1867-1944".

The School of World Mission recognized Whitt's ability in handling some significant aspects in the historical development of the Christian Movement by offering him the SWM History Award. His dissertation has already generated interest by those within the PAOC.

Whitt has made a great contribution already to OTS and now the expectation is that he will be an increasing help to missionary involvement in the Canadian churches and overseas. ▲

DR. VICTOR SHEPHERD

Victor A. Shepherd, who occupies the Chair of Wesley Studies, OTS, is soon to publish his fifth book, Seasons of Grace: From Wilderness to Wonder (Creative Bound, 200pp., $17.95). It follows his most recent So Great a Cloud of Witnesses (forward by Dr. Ian Rennie), a book of 25 profiles of Christian "Greats," as originally published in Fellowship Magazine, of which Dr. Shepherd is an editorial director.

Seasons takes the reader through some of the gyrations of faith and life with its searing pains and soaring joys. It journeys through the seasons from "wilderness," that place of angst and turmoil, to one of "wonder" - God inspired awe and contentment. It gives a whole new perspective and appreciation for one's wilderness as not something to "escape," but rather a place to seek out and even savour - a place where God speaks.

Biblically, Seasons of Grace parallels the Christian's maturing in years, yearning and usefulness: Fall (Redemption) - God's saving grace (Eph. 2:5,8); Winter (Deepening) - Growing in grace (2 Pet. 3:18); Spring (Awakening) - Abounding in grace (Rom. 5:20); and Summer (Usefulness) - Serving acceptably in grace (Heb. 12:28)

Seasons of Grace will be available in the OBC/OTS bookstore this Fall. ▲
