Miss Beverly Charette

Dedication

To you, Bev, we affectionately dedicate this book. Your love for Christ and joy in His service have encouraged many of us to follow close to Him.

"Here is an interesting course which you could work into your schedule."

On arrival at London College, many of us felt strange and without friends. But to our surprise on Registration Day, Miss Beverly Charette, Assistant to the Registrar, went to her file and secured our folder without even asking our name.

"How did she know my name?" we asked ourselves. Soon we learned that Bev was introduced to us through our letters of inquiry and application many months before we arrived at the college.

Bev is interested in each new student, not merely as part of her job, but because of a genuine love for the young people that the Lord leads to this school. You can be sure that she has also talked to her Heavenly Father about each one personally.

The number of students who frequent her office daily for business, counselling or just a chat, indicates her continued interest in them.

A woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised. Prov. 31:50.

In Memoriam

MISS RUBY WONNACOTT

My potter's busy wheel is where
I see a desk and office chair,
And well I know my Lord is there.

And all my work is for a King
Who gives His potter songs to sing.
Contented songs, through everything.

As Ruby carried out her duties in the business office at London College, she lived the words of this poem, which she kept by her typewriter. During the four months she was here we saw the results in her devoted service and fragrant life.

On July 14, 1961, after a month's illness with acute leukemia, the Lord chose to take her home to Himself. We have felt the loss keenly.

Born in Pambrun, Saskatchewan, in 1935, Ruby was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wonnacott. As a young girl she moved to Toronto where she completed her early education. Upon finishing Business College, Ruby worked for Toronto Youth for Christ.

The desire to prepare herself further for the Lord's service led her to New Brunswick Bible Institute, from where she graduated in May, 1960. She was then employed as a secretary in Toronto for a short time. She came to London College with the conviction that God had placed her here and that she was "actually employed by Christ." (Col. 3:25, Phillips.)

Ruby's submissiveness to her Lord is revealed in a favourite poem of hers, which was read at her funeral:

Things just don't happen to us who love God
To us who have taken our stand,
What matter the lot, the course, or the price,
Things just don't happen, they're planned.

From the President

DR. J. C. MACAULAY

My dear young companions in the Gospel,

How quickly the years roll around! Yesterday was matriculation. Today is graduation. Tomorrow will be the place of responsibility.

To the graduating class we say, "Well done!" To the rest of you, "Courage!" The same grace of God which has brought them to the goal will bring you, too. And yet, graduation is not the goal! It is only a milestone. A new lap of the race begins. "So run, that ye may attain."

You came to London Bible Institute and will graduate from London College of Bible and Missions. It is the same school, but with a new name which more accurately expresses its ministry.

The word "College" indicates our academic level of work. It is post-High School, Grade XIII being a pre-requisite for our degree courses.

The phrase "Bible and Missions" states our objectives and our specialties. Our objective is to train you for a Biblical ministry, built on the rock foundation of the Word of God, whether you specialize in Christian Education, Missions, or Pastoral Studies. Even our arts subjects are related to this purpose.

"The field is the world." We have added "and Missions" to our name to remind ourselves that we dare not have less than a world vision. Whether you go to the "regions beyond" or serve in the homeland, we want you to have the world and its need in your heart.

*To all the world! O word of love divine!
To all the world! This is Thy blest design;
To all the world! and lo, the task is mine.
Send me, O Lord, send me!*

Upon graduates and undergraduates alike, I wish God's richest blessing and "commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are sanctified."

In the love of Christ, your friend,

J. C. Macaulay

In Appreciation

DR. WILLIAM R. QUINN
London, Ontario

Dr. Quinn, a medical doctor in London, was Acting Missions Director from 1950 to 1961. He was a member of the original faculty and taught missionary and medical subjects for two years. In 1937, Dr. Quinn went to India as a medical missionary. Upon his return in 1949, he resumed his teaching responsibilities here and became a member of the Board of Directors.

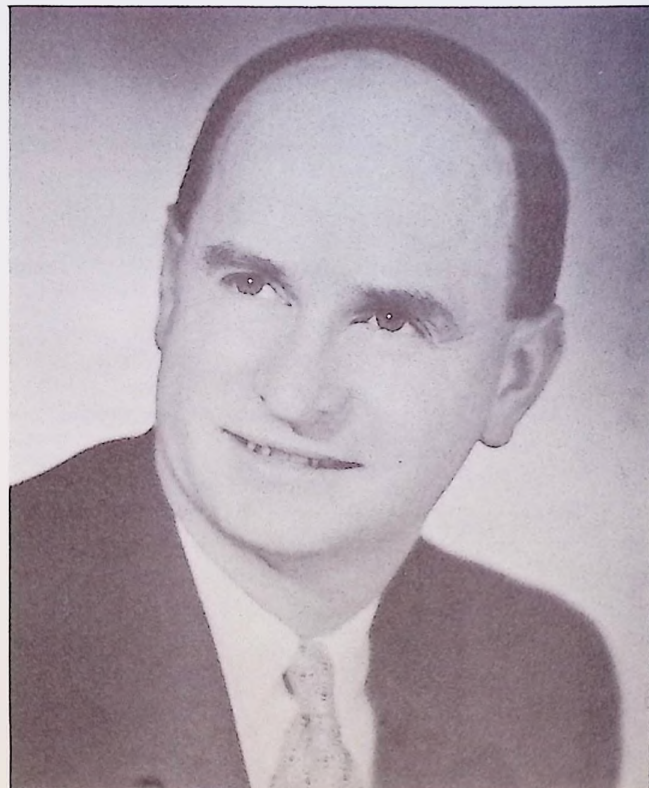

We are grateful to Dr. Quinn for taking time from his busy practice to assist in the training of young people at London College.

REV. W. ELWYN DAVIES
Hamilton, Ontario

Rev. Davies, Director for Canada of the Bible Christian Union and former missionary in Holland, was our Missions Counsellor from 1959 to 1961.

Each month Mr. Davies spent two or three days at our school. His purpose in coming was to convey to us some of his own passion for missions and to develop in us a spiritual motive for becoming missionaries.

We wish to thank Mr. Davies for the strong spiritual impact which he has left upon our lives.

THE 1961-1962 CHORALE

Hurry marked every move on March 18 as the choir members made last minute preparations for another choir tour. Amid the confusion, the bus driver managed to save the Careys' favourite seat on the bus.

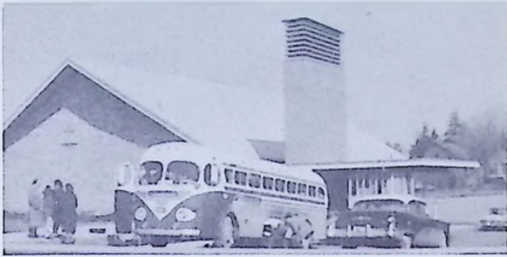

In the next ten days, the choir presented twelve sacred concerts between London and Ottawa.

The choir was thankful for their Director, Mr. Carey, for their prayer leader Gerry Brock, and for the Lord's guidance throughout the tour.

Maritime Tour

Our Maritime team travelled from the southern tip of Nova Scotia to the heart of New Brunswick last summer, presenting Christ and His work at London College.

The students sang and testified in twenty-one programmes that were centered on the Christian's worship, walk, and work. Their arrangement of "How Great Thou Art" won a place in their listeners' hearts. Dr. Macaulay's messages were a vital part of each service.

"Even though we were often rerouted by floods, the tour was most profitable," a team member said. The group was privileged to see many young people dedicate their lives to Christ.

Student Missions Fellowship

Mr. William Wallace, Director of Missions (left) plans missionary meetings and projects with S.M.F. executive, President, Don Perkins (standing), Mary Mitchell, Secretary, and Lloyd Webb, Treasurer.

This Year's Project

This year's S.M.F. project is entirely different. Our students are raising the funds to bring an African elementary school headmaster, Kosamo W. Kasonso of Northern Rhodesia, to study at our school.

The Africans wanted a national pastor with the same education as the missionaries. Mr. Kasonso was selected as the best qualified person to receive this training.

Mr. Kasonso, about thirty years old, spends his weekends and vacations in evangelistic work.

When he returns, his pastoral ministry will include teaching, conference work and counselling other pastors.

S.M.F. Projects

Along the Amazon River, the only means of transportation is the great river itself. The little launch that the Greenslades ('51) had been using in Iquitos, Peru, was slowly rotting.

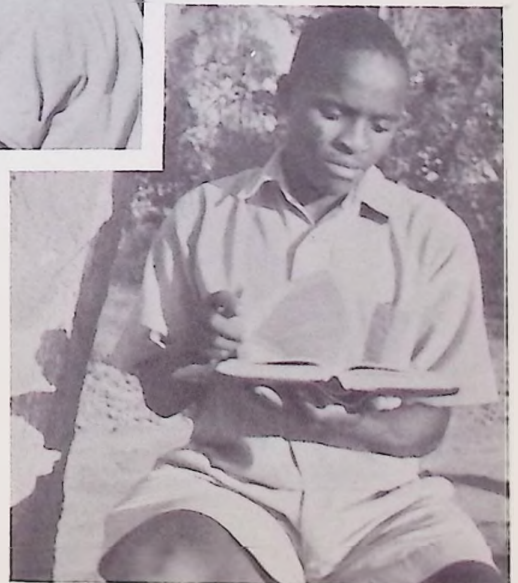

When S.M.F. heard of this need, they chose to build a houseboat so that the presentation of the gospel would not be hindered.

1958-59

The housing and kitchen equipment for Camp Kayolaa, directed by Frank and Margaret Frew ('51), were provided by our students.

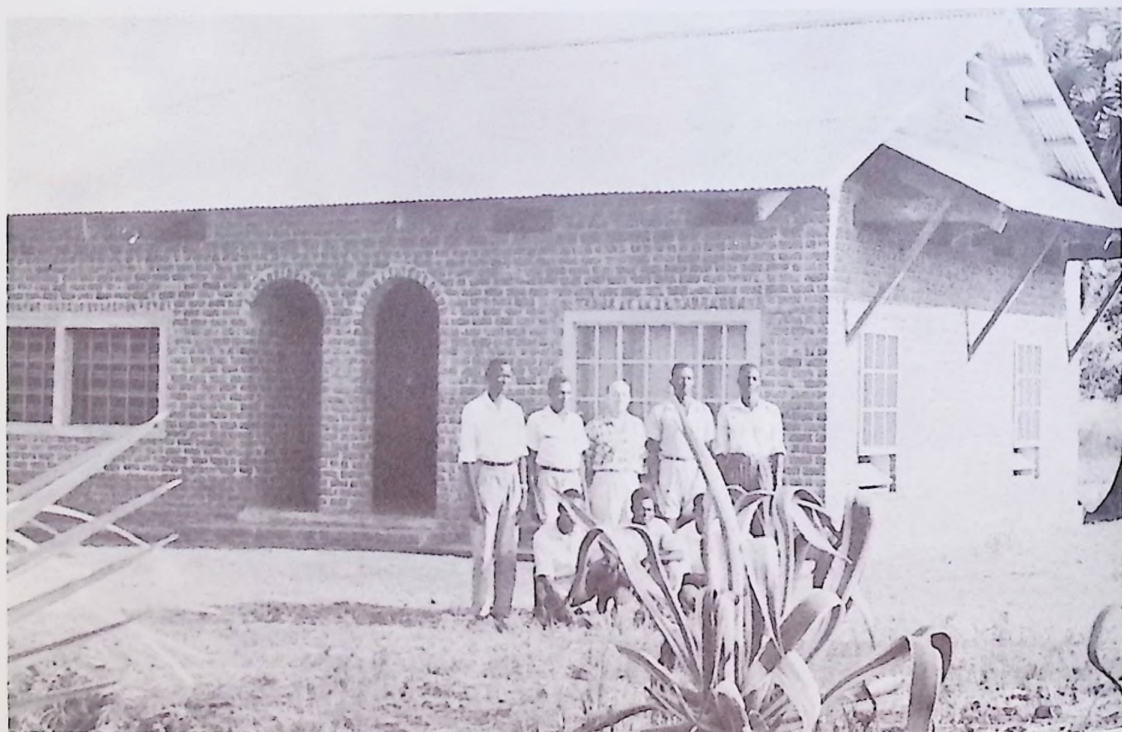

The aim of this boys' camp is to lead Africans to Christ and to encourage them to serve Him in spite of their heathen surroundings.

1957-58

AIRPLANE HANGAR, BRAZIL, SOUTH AMERICA.

S.M.F. built an airplane hangar in Brazil, which also houses a workshop and living quarters for the missionary pilot and his family. The plane reduces difficult overland trips of many days to an hour or two. It helps to spearhead the advance of the gospel among Indians in the jungles.

1956-57

JEAN C. SCOTT MEMORIAL LIBRARY, CHAD, AFRICA.

When an African student saw this library, he gasped, "Who gave us this beautiful building?" The library, part of a Bible School in the Chad, Africa, was erected as a memorial to a former registrar, Miss Jean Scott. "Because of what you've done," wrote another student, "we will become men of God."

Homecoming

What we need today is a vital relationship to Christ, not just a head knowledge of religion, said Rev. Lawrence Pearson, Executive Secretary of the Moody Alumni Association, to our alumni.

A thrill of the weekend was to hear graduates tell how the Lord had worked through them. At class reunions many shared their experiences. Some showed slides during the sessions.

Workshops provided instruction and an opportunity to meet new faculty members.

At the banquet, Miss E. Lockhart, Girls' Dorm Mother, was made an honorary member of the Alumni Association.

Orientation

What will the students be like?
Are the professors stuffy or human?
How will I get along with my roommates?

Such questions puzzled the freshmen as they arrived at school.

Our week long orientation programme, planned by Grant Gordon and Gail Robinson, helped them to feel at home.

"We sure got to know each other fast," one freshman said.

The Orientation theme has become our prayer for our entire school family—Teach Me Thy Way.

Big Brother, Grant Gordon (centre), and Big Sister, Gail Robinson (seated), check last minute details before the banquet with Freshmen Bette Snyder and Jim Lange.

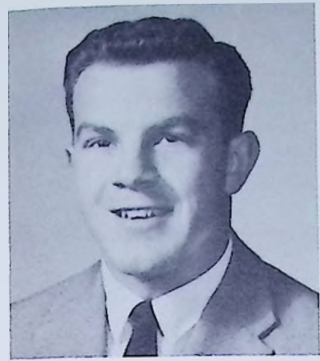

Informal games helped the freshmen get acquainted at the picnic Friday afternoon.

Ladies Auxiliary

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary happily serve refreshments at the Faculty Tea for graduates.

Our Ladies Auxiliary is a group of dedicated women who delight in making our "home away from home" a happy one.

They spend many hours making our dormitories more attractive and providing refreshments at school receptions. Each student is personally supported in prayer by one of the women.

This past year our Auxiliary has given us an automatic washer, a dryer, and two kitchen stoves, which add to the efficiency of our school.

We appreciate your interest in us materially and spiritually. May the Lord bless you for your sacrificial generosity.

"Is this ever easy!" says Fred Elliott, as he takes his laundry from our new automatic washer, given by the Ladies Auxiliary.

Christian Service

*Body and soul, we give Thee gladly, fully
That men, the glories of Thy grace may know*

London College has a unique Christian Service programme. The emphasis is on church-centered activity. Thus, the student develops a realistic outlook on the Gospel ministry and loyalty to a local church.

Each freshman is interviewed by the Director of Christian Service (left) and assigned to one of the local churches. There, under the pastor's guidance, the student learns from the experience of others.

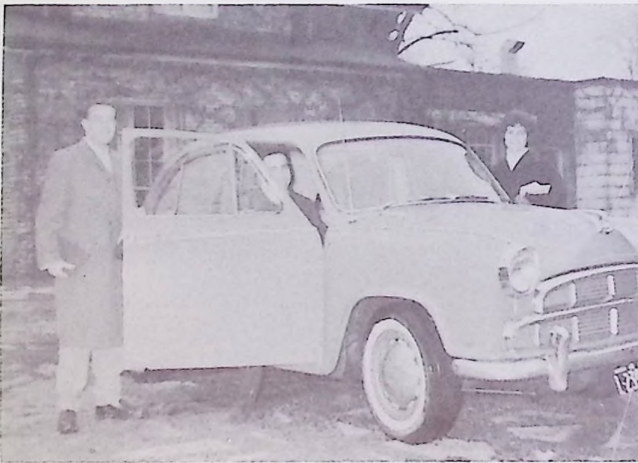

The first term is spent becoming acquainted with the church through observing its various activities. Soon the student is given responsibility such as assisting in a Sunday School class.

Students find ample opportunity to assist in the musical ministry of the church.

In addition to activities within the church, students gain experience in other evangelistic services.

Some students have the opportunity of conducting week-night services at the London Rescue Mission.

On Sunday afternoons students assist in Gospel services at the Ontario Mental Hospital.

Perhaps a senior student may be given responsibility in such organizations as Youth For Christ.

However, as the student becomes more involved in his church, his Christian Service activities center there.

Frequently the pastor assigns the student to assist in children's meetings such as Boys' Brigade or Pioneer Girls.

Many students are in charge of a Sunday School class or a Young People's group. A responsible student, after he has been integrated into the church programme, may receive opportunities to preach and to organize activities.

Some seniors are able to use their experience in a pastorate of their own.

We are thankful for the faithful pastors co-operating in our programme

- Who have strengthened us by their preaching
- Who have stimulated us by their practice
- Who have sustained us by their prayers

PROGRAMMES OF STUDY AT LONDON COLLEGE

KENNETH R. DAVIS

Degree Programmes (Grades XIII or Senior Matriculation required)*

- A three-year course leading to a B.R.E. (Bachelor of Religious Education) with a major in General Bible or Christian Education.
- A four-year course leading to a B.R.E. (Honours) with double majors in Christian Education and Music, or Christian Education and Missions.
- A four-year course leading to a B.Th. (Bachelor of Theology) with a major in Pastoral Studies or Missions. Hebrew is required for a B.Th. (Honours).

*If a student has completed only Grade XII, a year of Arts (equivalent to Grade XIII) is required.

Non-degree Programmes (Grade XII required)

- One-year course leading to a certificate in Bible.
- Three-year course leading to a diploma and allowing for many electives.

London College maintains that it is sound educationally to teach a combined programme of Arts and Theology. For example, the B.Th. Pastor's Course contains a strong theological programme interspersed with carefully chosen liberal arts subjects.

A degree programme prepares a student for an immediate ministry, or for further education. For instance, with the B.R.E. in Christian Education a student is equipped for a ministry in Christian Education or for graduate work. The B.R.E. in General Bible contains sufficient Bible and liberal arts for entrance to the B.D. programme in many seminaries. A B.Th. (Honours) graduate should be able to complete a B.A. in one school year and a summer school.

The double major courses meet certain practical needs in the Christian Church; that is (a) a combined ministry in Christian Education and Music, and (b) a combined role of teacher-missionary.

With these goals in mind London College attained accredited status with the Accrediting Association of Bible Colleges, which is recognized by the U. S. Department of Education, the American Council on Education and most State Departments of Education. Some Canadian Universities also allow substantial credit for liberal arts courses at London College.

DR. JOHN G. MITCHELL

Winter Conference

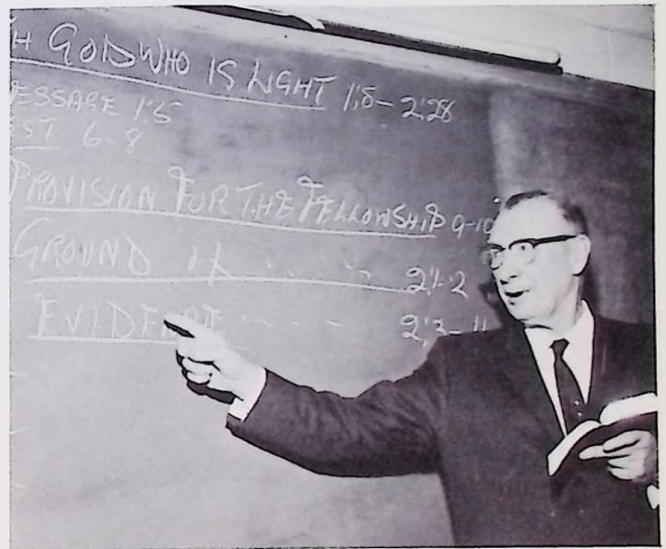

Feb. 29 - Mar. 3, 1961

Dr. John G. Mitchell, pastor of Central Bible Church, Portland, Oregon, was the speaker at the 1961 Winter Conference. Dr. Mitchell is also the founder of Multnomah School of the Bible.

The students were deeply impressed with his practical knowledge of the Word of God. Hidden truths were uncovered as Dr. Mitchell outlined I John. We can still remember his searching question each morning, "How many did not read I John audibly?"

Two students discuss crucial problems with Dr. Mitchell

Dr. Mitchell expounds I John

Fall Conference

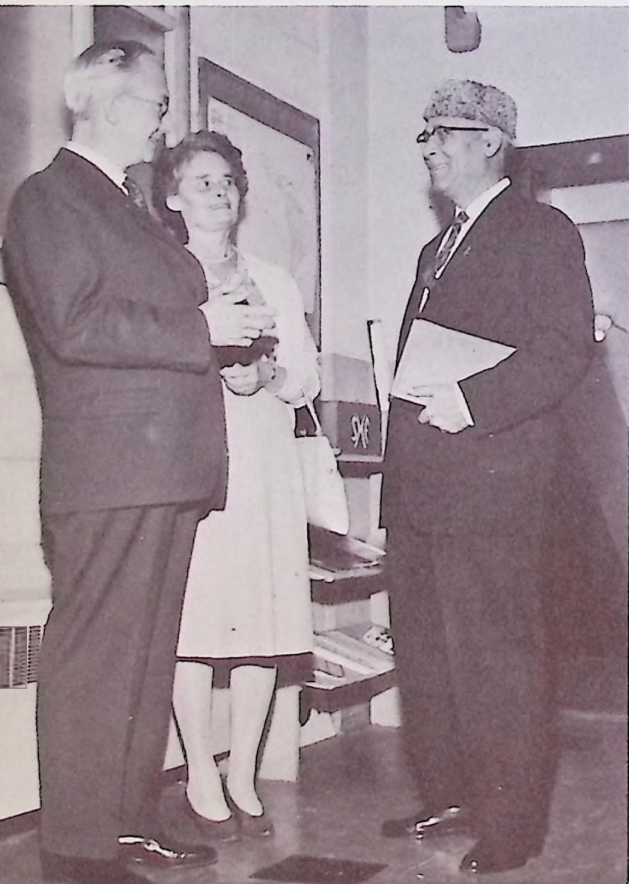

Oct. 30 - Nov. 3, 1961

"One thing that is better than working for the Lord, is the Lord working through you," said Rev. Francis Dixon, of England, speaker at our 1961 Fall Conference. "What a man is on his knees before God is what he is."

Dr. Macaulay in introducing Mr. Dixon said, "The fact that Mr. Dixon is pastor of a church and founder of a correspondence course is significant, but incidental. That he is a frequent speaker at English Keswick is likewise significant but incidental. The important factor is that this man is a messenger of God."

We soon learned the truth of this statement. As Mr. Dixon spoke about constant victorious living, the Lord spoke to many students.

Mr. Dixon encouraged us to have faith that God loves, knows and understands us.

Rev. and Mrs. Francis Dixon chat with Rev. Elijah Shafi, a special one-year student from Pakistan.

Evening School

Evening School students share their pleasure with Dr. David Beckman, Director of Evening School (right), after receiving their certificates for subjects completed during the 1960-1961 Evening School.

Student Visitation

"The fellowship in the dorms and before classes, the consecrated teachers and the friendly students all added up to a thrilling experience, which I wished could have lasted much longer," remarked a visiting high school student.

Last year, one hundred and five young people, representing eight denominations, visited our school during student visitation week, April 5 to 7.

Graduates

Ambassador Award of Distinction

This year the Faculty and the Ambassador Staff selected two graduates to receive the Ambassador Award of Distinction. They were chosen on the basis of student esteem as well as faithfulness, co-operation and attitude in academic work, Christian Service and student offices.

God sometimes creates individuals who work faithfully behind the scenes. Such people are often unaware of their contribution to others. We are thankful for many such students. This year we wish to recognize Mary Mitchell and Les Clemens.

In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength

Isaiah 30:15

Mary Mitchell

Mary Mitchell, winner of last year's Christian Service Award, is an asset to both her school and church. "We will miss her greatly when she graduates", said her pastor, Rev. G. Brown of Sunrise Baptist Church. "She is devoted to her duties here."

At her church Mary is Chairman of the Christian Education Committee. She has started a number of youth activities and, at present, leads two girls' programmes and teaches a teenage girls' Sunday School class.

Mary, an elementary school teacher, is employed by Christian Service Centres and teaches religious education in the public schools in the afternoon.

She is vitally interested in missionary work. For the past two years she has been Secretary of S.M.F. Last summer Mary took a missionary linguistics course at Toronto Bible College and previously taught Indian children near Moosonee, Ontario.

"Mary interests any age group in any subject", wrote her former pastor, "And no sacrifice is too great for her."

Les Clemens

"Les makes his presence felt by his depth of spirituality," says his Pastor, Rev. H. Butler of Briscoe Street Baptist Church.

Les is active in various church organizations. He leads Sky Teens, Young Peoples, and assists in the adult Bible Class.

Here at school Les leads the student body prayer meetings and is also in charge of the S. M. F. Pastor's prayer group.

He uses his artistic ability to paint anything from parking lot signs to attractive posters such as the one he is pictured beside.

During his first two years at school, Les worked at Wooden Crippled Children's Centre. "The kids just loved him," said a co-worker. "It was more than just a job to him."

Les' dedication and faithfulness testify to his desire to give his best to the Lord.

Baccalaureate May 7, 1961

The traditional processional along Queens Avenue to Central Baptist Church began an impressive Baccalaureate service.

As faculty and students entered the Church to the strain of "The Son of God Goes Forth to War", they realized anew that the task to which they were called would not be an easy one.

Rev. A. B. Stein, of Philpott Memorial Church, Hamilton, challenged the graduates by asking, "As you young people graduate and go out into the world, will your life be a demonstration of limitless power or a manifestation of weakness?"

Choral selections were "Ivory Palaces" and "Love Divine".

Graduation Banquet

April 14, 1961

Gerry Brock, Class of '62, presents a year-guard to graduate, Neil Smith

Dave Janzen, President of the Junior class, reviews the programme with speaker Rev. Harold Fife, Pastor of High Park Baptist Church, Toronto.

Graduates anticipate this special Banquet given in their honour.

Graduation

"If you think you're finished being scholars now, then you're finished," Dr. Macaulay cautioned the graduates. "Commencement is just a beginning."

Dr. V. Raymond Edman, President of Wheaton College, demonstrated in his address that "the Holy Spirit is the hinge of history."

Murray Hicks, Alumni President, welcomed the graduates into a family that is inseparable in their ministry for Christ.

Dr. J. C. Macaulay congratulates Neal Smith, after conferring on him the degree of Bachelor of Theology.

of the London College of Bible and Missions

Extend to each member of the graduating class, hearty congratulations on the successful termination of these years of study and devotion.

*All the way my Lord will lead me,
All the way, though faith be tried,
Never will I doubt His guidance,
Knowing He is by my side.*

*All the way He will be with me,
As from friends and scenes I part;
All the way—tho' storms may gather,
Heavenly peace will fill my heart!*

We pray that God's richest blessing may attend your future steps.

Dear Graduates of '62,

I write this letter today very conscious of the fact that I speak on behalf of over 500 Ambassadors who have graduated from our school and have continued to serve the Lord Jesus Christ. They, with me, pray for you a rich and fruitful ministry characterized by faithfulness to the Word of God, sensitivity to the will of God, and obedience to the direction of God.

You are entering a family whose members are continually motivated by love, constrained to pray, and compelled to give, in reaching the unreached for Christ. To be received into the membership is to be received into its ministry, and to be received into its ministry is to be a partaker of the post-resurrection mandate of our Lord in Matthew 28:19-20 in which He gives a proclamation to be heard, a programme to be followed, and a promise to be received.

We prayerfully covet for you the place of God's appointment in His great harvest field as you enter our Association.

By His Grace,

Murray L. Hicks

Presbyterian Ministers' Fund has a long tradition of applying Christian principles to business practice with the "prophet" motive as its impelling force. It has an enviable record of experience in helping solve the insurance problems of those in the ministry. Ordained men manage its branch offices. These understand from personal experience the demands on low salaries and the particular needs peculiar to their fellow ministers for protection and retirement income. No one is on commission.

Net cost is exceedingly low since operating expenses are kept at a minimum, lapses are very few, mortality experience is most favourable, and assets are invested conservatively in high grade securities. Dividends are unusually generous.

Although the Fund retains its present name for historical and sentimental reasons, it has had no denominational affiliation for over 100 years. The Corporators and Directors are Protestants. Protestant Ministers, Missionaries and Theological Students only are eligible.

A group of students is seated at desks in a classroom, facing the front. The students are dressed in mid-20th-century attire. The teacher, a man in a suit and glasses, is standing at the front of the room, gesturing towards the chalkboard. The room has a checkered floor and a clock on the wall. A map of the West Indies and East Indies is also visible on the wall.
